

11/3/2009 6:50:42 AM

RAJEEV GUPTA: Staying Up When the Chips Are Down

Group: Global Supply Chain Council (Asia, China, Vietnam, India)

Subject: New comment (1) on "Has the recession hurt or helped supply chain innovation?"

yeah the recession has made the supply chain management system more efficient as companies are working hard on cost cutting

RAJEEV GUPTA

RAJEEV GUPTA on LinkedIn

Global Supply Chain Council (Asia, China, Vietnam, India)

The Global Supply Chain Council represents Asia's largest supply chain community with more than 60,000 professionals in sourcing, procurement, logistics, manufacturing and operations in high-growth markets like China, India and Vietnam.

Topic tags: business development, innovation, inventory, leadership, long-haul trucking, supply chain and recession,

By anna_kurg